

Protective Velocity

Speed up your business with the IXN E-Ticket solution

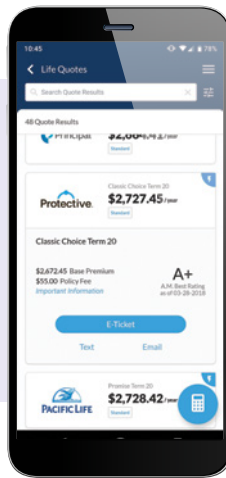

Technology is changing nearly every aspect of our lives, from how we interact with our friends and family to how we find our next meeting. For insurance, this means the process of selling life insurance is also changing and evolving into a seamless, portable experience that can be done straight from your mobile device.

IXN, in connection with Protective, provides an easy-to-use design that allows agents and advisors to do business directly from their smartphones. This unique e-ticket solution is available on IXN's mobile app — which can be customized to your agency and allows you to quote and apply in less than five minutes. And, clients can qualify for accelerated underwriting with Protective Life Underwriting Solution (PLUS) — available all within the mobile app.
